

CORN AND PICKLES
DAMSON PLUMS
WHITE PEACHES
GREEN TOMATOES, PEPPERS
WHITE ONIONS
CUCUMBERS
WINTER PEARS
BARTLETT PEARS
WE HAVE THEM

SOMERS

OLIVE R. RILEY
Teacher of Piano
N. E. Conservatory Course
 218 West Thames St. Tel. 1053-3

ALLES, WINES, LIQUORS
AND CIGARS
 Fresh, complete stock. Best Service.
DAN MURPHY
 11 Bath Street

MISS M. C. ADLES

HAIR, FACE AND SCALP SPECIALIST
 Don't have faded hair! Remember, the color of the hair is everything! Secure a tonic which restores the color. Ask to see the new Back Hair Knot.
 306 Main Street, Next to Chelsea Bank.
 Tel. 453-4.

That the Design of a Memorial is of prime importance and that expert advice is necessary in its selection is testified by the following extracts from rules of Metropolitan cemeteries:

LAKE VIEW CEMETERY, Cleveland, Ohio
 "In certain sections the lot owners agree that the management shall have the right to select the design on advice of their landscape architect."

LAKEWOOD CEMETERY, Minneapolis
 "Great care should be taken in selecting designs for monuments. Monument should be designed with reference to its surroundings, consideration being given to the number, size and character of other monuments standing near it. A good design need cost no more and may cost less than a bad one, etc."

Our advice and assistance in selecting designs is free and does not bind you in any way to purchase from us.

THE CHAS. A. KUEBLER CO.
 39-41 Franklin Street

This Is Gas Heater Weather

With the sudden drop in the temperature, the absence of steam and other heating, has brought discomfort to many.

A GAS HEATER
 or
GAS STEAM RADIATOR

will give you immediate comfort in the Home or Office.
 Full, new stock on hand.

The City of Norwich
Gas and Electrical Dept.
 21 Main St., Alice Building

"GRIME OFF"

CLEANS HANDS CLEAN
at Rallion's

DRS. L. F. and A. J. LaPIERRE
 287 Main St.
 PRACTICE LIMITED TO
 Hours 10 a. m. to 3 p. m.
Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat

Ernest E. Bullard
VIOLIN
TEACHER
 All String Instruments repaired
 Violins sold on easy terms
 For appointments address E. E. BULLARD, 315 Main St., Norwich, Conn.

DR. SHAHAN
 Marion Block, 325 Main Street
SPECIALIST
 on Diseases of the Stomach and Rheumatism
 2-4 and 7-8 p. m. Tel. 321

The Bulletin

Norwich, Monday, Oct. 4, 1915.

VARIOUS MATTERS

There were many warm political handshakes Sunday.

A good many of the visitors in town today are home to vote.

Mailmen had the customary amount of political literature to deliver Saturday.

Several local musicians will go to Worcester this week to attend the Music festival.

William Russell in "Wildfire," five acts, Colonial theatre, today—adv.

The Central Vermont railway is rushed at the present time with freight from New York.

The delicate and dainty cosmos in local gardens had been spared by the frost up to Sunday.

Next Sunday and Monday (Oct. 10 and 11), the Preston City Baptist church will celebrate its centennial.

Sunday was a dismal day, but the rain held up so as not to interfere with the congregations of communion Sunday.

Mrs. John Colegrove of New London has purchased a lot at Groton Long Point, near the western end of the boardwalk.

Having returned to Norwich from Hartford, J. C. Worth, Jr., is now associated with his father in business on Market street.

Postmaster John P. Murphy is having a new coat of purple government green paint applied to the letter boxes about town.

Sunday Rev. John Knott of Goshen exchanged pulpits with Rev. H. A. Blake, pastor of the Congregational church at Colchester.

Cautious flower growers covered their blossoms last night, as a safeguard against the heavy frost promised, following the rain.

The northeast storm which struck Norwich early Saturday morning brought a wind of about 25 miles per hour and plenty of rain.

Elections to the board of directors of the New London Young Women's Christian association include Mrs. Ralph Meier of Montville.

Much interest is being exhibited by local members of the Knights of Pythias state convention to be held in Bridgeport, Oct. 13.

A former Norwich pastor, Rev. William T. Thayer, now of Wallingford, is to speak twice at a Sunday school institute in Putnam Thursday.

A Hebrew young woman, Miss Doris Post, who has been teaching in Coventry, was operated on for appendicitis in the Hartford hospital last week.

Mrs. Louis E. Mosier, who for the past year has made her home with Mrs. Nancy Beckwith, at East Lyme, celebrated her one hundredth birthday Thursday.

The big gilt and black sign of the Norwich Nickel & Brass company now stands on the corner of Rogers shop on Thames street, by elderly Norwich residents still referred to as "the skate shop."

At Willimantic campground 103 trees have been cut down. Owners of cottages when they paid their ground rent paid $1 extra to defray the expense of the work of cutting down and trimming the trees.

While the teachers' convention for the accommodation of teachers in the eastern part of the state is being held at New London Friday, Oct. 23nd, the western section of the convention will be held at Danbury.

At New Haven Friday funeral services were held for Mrs. Charles Bates, who died suddenly. She was the wife of Charles Bates, a trainman on the Shore Line, and a former resident of Old Lyme.

Notices were sent to barbers in the state from the state barbers' commission at the capitol early last week calling attention to the fact that October 1st was the last day to renew licenses to do business.

The new layout of the Groton and Stonington street railway, which Denison burying ground to the telephone exchange was used for the first time Thursday. The cars now run past the Mystic railroad station.

At Salem Thursday, Mrs. Winfield Haney narrowly escaped being shot. Several men were hunting on the Haney property, when a chance shot from one of their rifles entered a post within a few feet of where Mrs. Haney was standing.

Red Admiral Charles D. Sigbee, U. S. N. retired, who is a patient in the naval hospital at the navy yard in Brooklyn, N. Y., suffering from a nervous breakdown, has recently left Norwich where he spent several weeks in the effort to regain his health.

Erastus Gaylord Putnam, 82, a member of the Putnam family of Revolutionary fame, died last week at his home, 219 South Broad street, Elizabeth, N. J. He was born in Hartford, a son of Henry Putnam and Mrs. Jeanette Cleveland Putnam.

The annual inspection of the steam roads of Connecticut by the public utilities commission starts today (Monday) and continues for about two weeks. C. E. Elwell, commissioner; Engineer Trumbull and A. C. Schneider, stenographer, will represent the commission.

Chain letters are in violation of the lottery law and steps will be taken by the post office authorities for the suppression of the chain letter recently started asking that the receiver should send 10 cents for European travel relief and relay four copies of the letter on to friends.

At a recent meeting of the executive committee of the American Relief committee for sufferers from the war to which Norwich and Boston residents have contributed the committee, in response to urgent appeals from abroad, appropriated $100,000 for the relief work in Europe.

Mrs. F. W. Coleman's Sunday school class of young ladies met last week at the Methodist parsonage to organize a class, to be known as the C. L. C. Miss Marion Straley was selected president, Miss Lucy Blackburn secretary, and Miss Lucy Seavey treasurer. Various committees were formed.

Catechism instruction for the children of St. Patrick's parish, who attended the public schools, was resumed Sunday following the 9 o'clock mass, after the summer vacation. The same catechism will receive additional instruction each Saturday morning. The parochial school pupils receive this teaching during school hours.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Nellie P. Kelso has returned to her home in Norwich after a visit at the home of A. W. Kelso family in Essex.

Miss Hecia Wilber of Elizabeth street leaves town Tuesday for Wallingford to take a college and secretarial course at Phelps school.

Rev. John H. Broderick, rector of St. Patrick's church, had so severe a cold that he was unable to preach Sunday, although he read the first mass as usual.

A Stonington correspondent writes that at a recent musicale given in Borough hall two soprano solos were effectively rendered by Miss Elsie I. Chesbro of Norwich.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Daggett of Mansfield attended the Ellington fair last Tuesday, remaining in town till the following Saturday, visiting friends and relatives, also the Daggett homestead.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Parker left the Crocker House, New London, for New York Friday, where they were to meet Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cruikshank. A motor trip of several days will be taken.

The polls will be open in all districts today at 6 a. m. and close at 2 p. m. In all except the first, where they will close at 3 p. m.

FUNERAL

Harold Fournier.
 The funeral of Harold Fournier, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Fournier, was held from his parents' home, No. 24 Elizabeth street, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with burial in St. Mary's cemetery.

Undertakers Shea and Burke had charge of the funeral arrangements.

Walter Jewett Kellogg.
 The funeral of Walter Jewett Kellogg, whose death occurred in Los Angeles, Calif., on Sept. 23, was held from the home of his mother, Mrs. John C. Kellogg, No. 94 Laurel Mill avenue, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Edward S. Worcester, pastor of Broadway Congregational church, officiated. The bearers were Edward H. Tibbitts, Charles H. Phelps and the following members of Norwich lodge of Elks: Judge Nelson J. Lyndon, A. S. Spaulding, H. A. Wilbur, Joseph P. Connor, and burial took place in the family plot in Yantic cemetery. A committal service was read at the grave by Rev. Worcester. Relatives and friends were present and there were floral tributes of esteem.

Undertakers Henry Allen & Son had charge of the arrangements.

Mrs. John E. Blackburn.
 Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 1:45 o'clock for Mrs. E. C. Beloved wife of John E. Blackburn, at her late residence, No. 108 North Main street, Rev. Edward S. Worcester, pastor of Broadway Congregational church, officiating. The bearers were William Blackburn, Harry Blackburn, Frank Greene and C. Leroy Hill and burial took place in Hickory Street cemetery. Many relatives and friends were present. Included in the beautiful floral remembrances were the following:

Flower from her husband, John E. Blackburn; wreath from William Blackburn; wreath from Mrs. C. H. Jacquith; wreath from William Blackburn and family; spray from Mrs. Thomas Wallace; spray from Mrs. Wallace; wreath from William Smith; spray from Mr. and Mrs. Howard Spaulding; spray from Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Wallace; wreath from Mr. and Mrs. Casper K. Bailey; spray from Mr. and Mrs. Harry Blackburn; wreath from Calvin Briggs and Mrs. C. I. Hill; spray from Mrs. Truchowsky.

Undertakers Henry Allen and Son had charge of the funeral arrangements.

Mrs. Frances Prout.
 Mrs. Frances Prout, 34, widow of Enoch Prout, died in Middletown on Wednesday. She is survived by one son, Nelson Prout, and three grandchildren. Before her marriage Mrs. Prout was Miss Frances Hempstead, of New London. The funeral was held Saturday morning at 1 o'clock. The services were conducted by Rev. E. C. Acheson. Burial was in Indian Hill cemetery, New London.

Costume Social.
 The Merry-makers of the arkin club held a costume social at the home of Miss E. M. Allen, 215 North Main street, Friday evening. The evening was an enjoyable one with games, refreshments and music.

Incidents in Society
 Miss Bergin of Woodmont is the guest of Mrs. Denison Gallaudet at Massapequa.

Charles Paddock Johnson of Washington street is returned to Trinity college, Hartford.

After passing two weeks at Trinity Hill, Mrs. T. D. Olenka has returned to her home in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mrs. James A. Atwood, Jr., of Town street, has been entertained by her grandmother, Mrs. Lawson, of Cincinnati.

The bridge teas at the Norwich club opened for their winter season Saturday afternoon with a large attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Rollin C. Jones left town yesterday for a motor trip with Collinsville friends over the Mohawk Trail.

Miss Anna L. Ely of Washington street is in Newport, R. I., and before returning here will visit in New York.

Mrs. Leonard W. Bacon has closed her summer home at Assonet, and returned to 268 Washington street for the winter.

Miss Elizabeth Chase of Otis street has returned to Farmington, where she has entered upon her second year of study at Miss Porter's school.

Miss Helen Lathrop Perkins of Williams street has been engaged as vocal teacher in Dr. Reaser's boarding school for girls at Jenkintown, near Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Norton of Broadway left Friday by automobile for New York, planning to attend the Sheephead Bay races and to be absent several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Grosvenor Ely gave a supper and musicale at Assonet, Washington street on Sunday evening in honor of their guest, Mrs. Jessie Hatch Symonds, of Salem, Mass.

Lincoln Wadsworth of Broadway has left town to enter business in Boston. Mr. Wadsworth was graduated in June from the academy, where he was a popular member of the fraternities.

Japanese government experts have succeeded in raising tobacco in Korea from American seed.

DEATH SUMMONS CAME SUDDENLY

To Dr. Dwight Tracy—Heart Disease Attack at Home of Gerard L. Ranger at 87 Division Street—Well Known for His Genealogical Researches—Was Born in Town of Scotland 64 Years Ago.

Dr. Dwight Tracy, who was 64 on August 24th, died suddenly with heart disease Sunday evening about 7 o'clock at the home of Gerard L. Ranger, No. 87 Division street, where he had come but a few minutes before to talk to Mr. Ranger about photography, a subject in which they were both interested.

He had been in apparent perfect health throughout the past week, and there was no premonition of the sudden and fatal attack when he came to the house and was admitted at the front door at 6 o'clock.

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers and Mary Gager, Jr. Dr. Tracy had been residing at the Martin house on Broadway.

Dwight Tracy, M. D., D. D., S. S., was born in the town of Scotland in Windham county on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

In the hope that a physician could reach him, Dr. Tracy was taken to the hospital, but he died before he could be reached. He was taken to the hospital, but he died before he could be reached.

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

Dr. Tracy was a native of Scotland, born in the town of Scotland, near Glasgow, on August 24, 1851, and was the son of Thomas Chalmers, also a native of Scotland, and Maria Safford, who was born in Canterbury. He was of colonial ancestry and on his father's side the line ran back to

OBITUARY.

John McGinley.

John McGinley, New London's former postmaster died at his home, 44 Jay street, at 4:15 Saturday morning. Death came as the result of an apoplectic stroke Thursday afternoon.

Which he did not regain consciousness. Mr. McGinley was born in New London, Mass., 1851. He was the son of Capt. John McGinley, a well known whaling captain of that period, and Louisa M. Lax McGinley. As a boy he attended the graded and Hartford high school, going from there to Eastwood academy, West Amboy, N. J., where he completed his education. He then determined to follow a mercantile career and soon became identified with the white goods trade in New York.

In 1881 when the call for volunteers came he enlisted as a three months' man but never saw active service.

When the New London Day was established in 1888 Mr. McGinley came from New York to New London to accept the post of city editor, which he held successfully until made business manager of the same publication.

When the city editor of the New London Day changed ownership in 1891, he was again selected as city editor, in which position he continued until 1901, when he was elected president of the city.

Mr. McGinley was a well known and good fellow who had many friends in this city.

Prior to receiving the postmaster's office he had been for many years a newspaper work. Mr. McGinley had become a prominent figure in New London life. He was for many years clerk of the city council, and was Charles W. Butler and at the same time served as city treasurer.

He was actively identified with St. James' Episcopal church, being at one time superintendent of the Sunday school and junior warden of the parish.

In fraternal and social affairs he was at all times a leader, and was affiliated with numerous organizations. He was a member of the Army and Navy club, the Thames club, past commander of W. W. Perkins post G. A. R., Brainard lodge, A. F. and A. M., Mohegan lodge, I. O. O. F., Sprague lodge, A. O. U. W., Ledyard council, O. E. S., and the New London County Historical society, the Memorial Hospital association, the New London Chamber of Commerce,